A message to our donors

With the opening of our Dodson Specialty Clinics this past spring, we continue our efforts to improve the health of every child in our region. If you've not yet visited our medical center campus, we hope you will enjoy perusing the images and information we've laid out for you in this issue. It provides a snapshot of the many services, features, technology and amenities that we've taken great care to include in our Dodson Specialty Clinics and medical center. Every aspect was designed with a single purpose in mind – to better serve our patients and families.

This first class facility is a testament to you, our donors and community volunteers; because it would not be possible without your ongoing support. And it's a tangible reflection of a shared commitment by our families and staff to enhance the patient- and family-centered care we provide at Cook Children's.

As you turn the pages, I hope it will bring a smile to your face knowing that you are helping us to change the landscape of care for children in our community. Because we live in one of the fastest growing areas in the nation, we know there is more work to be done.

Together, we can make our community the healthiest place in the country to raise a child. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Open for business

At the opening of the Dodson Specialty Clinics building, Rick W. Merrill, Cook Children's president and CEO, marveled at the brand new building, and couldn't help but think about the future benefits to the community. He said the building was "not only second to none, but almost one of a kind in the country."

"Because of your support, we will be able to help care for more and more children inside of these walls and for that we are very grateful," Merrill said. "Your gift will touch thousands of children's lives and help us to improve the health of children in our community for generations to come. Someone pointed out that this is such a wonderful facility and today, it has such capacity that my grandkids actually will enjoy this space. Now since I have a 13 year old and a 15 year old, both daughters, that's going to be a while. It brought the point home that this is not just for today or tomorrow, but it's for many, many years to come. Your kindness, your thoughtfulness and your love are what inspire each of us to give our very best to fulfill our promise to make our community the best place in the nation to raise a child."

While it's exciting to think about what the future holds for the building, the day belonged to its namesake – Clarabele (Pit) Dodson, who received a special key to her new home as a token of appreciation for all she has given to Cook Children's.

Do you want to see what all the excitement is about?

Come with us on a grand tour to learn more about the new technology and space that has been added to each clinic.

Innovative treatment for neuroblastoma patients

Cook Children's Hematology and Oncology Center's goal is to cure children and teenagers with cancer and blood-related disorders through innovative research and treatment advances.

Now, as part of the largest expansion in our history, the medical center is the home of a new 28-bed Hematology and Oncology Unit.

The new unit also contains a special lead-lined room for a neuroblastoma treatment known as metaiodobenzylguanidine (MIBG) therapy, which uses liquid radiation to target cancer cells. Once open, Cook Children's will be the only pediatric medical center in the Southwest to have such a facility. Because of the high doses of radiation, patients undergoing MIBG treatment must stay in a special lead-lined room for about five to seven days. Parents can be in an adjoining room during treatment.

Hands-on treatment hundreds of miles away

How do you hear a heartbeat from 304 miles away?
Or look into an ear canal of a patient in Midland without leaving Fort Worth?

Using telemedicine, of course.

Cook Children's now offers a room devoted to telemedicine, located in the Hematology and Oncology Center of Dodson Specialty Clinics. Doctors in Fort Worth can check on patients from throughout the surrounding areas at facilities in the Cook Children's network.

Doctors can perform follow-up visits, consultations and communicate with patients through telemedicine without the family driving a long distance for care. The doctor watches a patient on a TV and communicates with a nurse who is at the same location as the patient.

The doctor can listen to the patient's heart and look at the throat, ears or eyes. Previously, telemedicine visits weren't as convenient for Cook Children's doctors. Thanks to support from Permian Basin Area Foundation, Chaparral Foundation and Community Foundation of Abilene, doctors can now be more flexible in scheduling a patient visit and not interrupt other clinical services.

Making room for MEG

It's time to introduce you to MEG in Cook Children's Neurosciences department.

Magnetoencephalography, or MEG for short, is state-of-the-art technology, now housed in the lower level of the Dodson Specialty Clinics building. The technology provides a new noninvasive tool to study patients with difficult-to-control epilepsy and brain function.

MEG technology, combined with Cook Children's existing intraoperative magnetic resonance imaging (iMRI) and other pediatric neurosciences resources, provides the best available diagnostic tools for children afflicted with epilepsy or brain tumors.

MEG uses a highly sensitive detector to identify and record the magnetic fields associated with the electrical activity in the brain. The test is done in a magnetically shielded room, designed to keep out magnetic interference.

Miracle partner spotlight

Since 1987, Walmart and Sam's Club stores from across the country have helped raise more than $530 million for Children's Miracle Network Hospitals. And in 2011, local Walmart and Sam's Club stores joined together to raise more than $456,000 to help fund the new Hematology and Oncology Pharmacy at Cook Children's.

Chuck Sparks

Chuck Sparks with his family.

What personally motivates you to fundraise for Cook Children's?

My family's relationship with Cook Children's dates back to 2001, when our pediatrician in Abilene referred us to Cook Children's after our baby daughter, Shelby, had a status seizure requiring hospitalization.

She was given a rare diagnosis of Dravet syndrome in 2008. I hold the Cook Children's Neurology group in the highest regard. I have never met a more caring or knowledgeable group to care for my child.

Why should others give in support of Cook Children's?

There is so much more work to be done. The kids need our commitment to care. My daughter needed Cook Children's in 2001 and she still needs Cook Children's in 2012.

Is there anything special you would like to share with us?

My family feels so strongly about Cook Children's that my wife, Lauren, proudly serves on the Family Advisory Council to help enhance the child's experience, and the family's experience as well. It has been so exciting to see the money raised by the Walmart/Sam's Club family last year help fund the Hematology and Oncology Pharmacy. Cook Children's brings the best facilities, staff and research together to give our children hope for a healthy future. Our family strives for excellence in all they do... I am proud to say, so does the Cook Children's family.

FASHION for a cause

What started as a little dream for Lee Nagel and Jennifer Applbaum became a big reality on April 5 at the historic Adolphus Hotel in downtown Dallas.

After more than a year of hard work, Lee and Jennifer's vision was realized as they successfully hosted Dress 4 Yellow, a high-profile fashion show, luncheon and silent auction benefiting Cook Children's Hematology and Oncology Center and LIVESTRONG. With the help of their tremendous committee, everything came together and at the end of the day, they helped raise $165,000.

Dress 4 Yellow, presented by Park Place Motorcars Dallas, kicked off with a runway show featuring more than 20 of the world's top designers. Each designer produced a custom-made yellow outfit or selected a yellow piece from archived collections.

Designers included Donna Karan, Isaac Mizrahi, Carmen Marc Valvo, Catherine Malandrino, Thakoon, Christian Siriano, Zang Toi, Cole Haan, Nike, Oakley, Ruffian, Abi Ferrin, Sachin + Babi, Elie Tahari, David Meister, Rachel Roy, Chadwick Bell, Lela Rose and more.

The show was produced by Bret McKinney, who has been part of the Stanley Korshak team since 2000. McKinney has been the driving force behind the store's fantastic visual displays, as well as the producer of Texas

Ballet Theater, DIFFA/Dallas and Fresh Faces of Fashion.

After the show, guests attended a luncheon and presentation by LIVESTRONG founder Lance Armstrong. Afterward, several of the looks were offered for purchase during a live auction.

The remaining designs and other high-value items were up for grabs during the "Yellow Brick Road" silent auction, which included yellow accessories donated by Hollywood royalty and local celebrities. During the event, attendees could purchase $100 "Pot of Gold" tickets for an opportunity to win experiences with Tory Burch and Bobbi Brown in New York, TOMS® custom shoes in Los Angeles or a VIP shopping trip at Neiman Marcus in Dallas.

Dress 4 Yellow is designed to inspire and empower those affected by cancer. Organizers say the dollars raised will increase awareness, provide critical navigation services, fund research and survivorship programs and work to end the stigma of cancer around the globe.

Cook Children's patient and cancer survivor, Brandon Walker, represented Cook Children's at the event. To watch a video of Brandon's journey, go to www.youtube.com/cookchildrens and search childhood brain tumors.

Jennifer Applbaum

Jennifer attended her first fundraiser for cancer when she was 16 years old, just one month after her mother was diagnosed with breast cancer. Twenty years later, she is still passionately committed to the global fight against the disease. With more than 10 years of corporate event planning and fundraising experience, Jennifer was able to combine her professional skills and enthusiasm for LIVESTRONG through the creation of Dress 4 Yellow.

Lee Nagel

Lee lost both her parents to cancer and then was diagnosed herself at age 36. Having won her battle against cancer, Lee felt a responsibility to use her experience to help others. As supporters of the LIVESTRONG Foundation, she and her husband, Steve, have learned a lot about grassroots fundraising. They started the Swing Fore! Yellow Golf Tournament in 2009 and have raised more than $800,000. Lee is continuing to use her personal experience and dedication for LIVESTRONG through the creation of Dress 4 Yellow.

1 Bunny drive continues to grow

Haley Whatley began collecting stuffed bunnies and bears for Cook Children's patients 12 years ago, when she was just 6 years old. Since then, she has donated more than 25,000 stuffed animals through her annual bunny/bear drive, including nearly 3,000 stuffed animals collected this year. Next year will be Haley's last time to organize the bunny/bear drive before she leaves for college and passes the torch to another young philanthropist, Trudie Troublefield.

2 Cookies and Castles

Since 2000, the Tri-Delta Alumni Association has hosted an annual Cookies and Castles event each December. The event features a gingerbread house and cookie decorating extravaganza, benefiting hematology and oncology programs at Cook Children's. The 2011 Cookies and Castles event raised $54,311.

3 Wine for a Cause

Founded by Walter and Rhonda Stucker, Wine for a Cause is a non-profit organization dedicated to funding pediatric cancer research at Cook Children's. Last year's event was the third annual Wine for a Cause and, combined with the event from the previous year, raised $50,000 for the new MIBG suite where neuroblastoma patients will receive a high-dose radiation therapy known as metaiodobenzylguanidine (MIBG).

Uniting to honor one of their own

An electroencephalography (EEG) technologist since 1961, Ron Rose has worked loyally for Cook Children's for more than 30 years. Cook Children's Neurosciences doctors wanted to honor Rose when the Dodson Speciality Clinics building opened in March.

As a group, they decided the best way to show their appreciation for Rose's years of service was by contributing to the medical center in a meaningful way. The group of doctors collected money to name the department's waiting room after him: the Ron Rose Neurosciences Waiting Room.

Several physicians explained that Rose deserved the tribute because he has dedicated his life to providing the highest technical quality EEG for both the physicians and the patients. One doctor stated, "When we think of EEG, we think of Ron Rose."

Rose was instrumental in setting up and reorganizing the EEG departments for many local adult hospitals, including Texas Health Harris Methodist Hospital Fort Worth, John Peter Smith and Texas Health Arlington Memorial Hospital. He provided contract services from 1979 to 1983 to Cook Children's Medical Center and in 1983, Rose officially joined the Cook Children's family as a full-time EEG technologist. Cook Children's is grateful to have dedicated employees like Ron Rose.

"Mr. Rose did my son's EEG in 2008. He loves his job and it shows in his work and in the care he gives all the children he sees. Mr. Rose also did my daughter's EEG when she was a very sick, very little baby almost 10 years ago. His mannerisms seemed so familiar to me when I saw him with my daughter. Then, I remembered how I knew Mr. Rose. You see, he did my EEG when I was a little girl, too. I had been through test after test to determine my epilepsy. Out of all of those people that ran all those tests on me, Mr. Rose is the one I remembered. He made me feel comfortable. He made me feel secure. Mr. Rose loves these children. It showed 24 years ago, just as it shows now."

WBAP Cares for Cook Children's

WBAP morning personality Brian Estridge with Cook Children's patients Colby and Clayton Coker and their parents Cindi and Joe.

WBAP 820-AM and 96.7-FM gave its first gift to Cook Children's in 1991.

Since then, WBAP and its listeners have continued to give to Cook Children's through various fundraising events. Under the leadership of morning personality Brian Estridge, WBAP once again supported Cook Children's and our promise by hosting a donate-a-thon.

All day, beginning at 5 a.m. on Feb. 10, Estridge ran the WBAP Cares for Cook Children's on-air event asking listeners to donate and show their support. Before the event, Estridge invested himself into the cause by touring Cook Children's to learn more about our expansion. He also interviewed several patients and their families while he shadowed medical center staff for half a day.

"My wife and I are blessed to have two happy and healthy children, yet we know that many families aren't as fortunate. That's why we wanted to do our part to make sure that those families have all the resources that they need at their disposal. Supporting Cook Children's is the obvious choice for us to make sure that happens."
